MONDAY EVENING, DEC'R. 80.

MR. CORCORAN'S EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY WAS appropriately celebrated on Friday evening at the Louise Home, Washington, where from 8 to the Louise Home, Washington, where from 8 to 10 p. m. a large number of his personal friends and relatives, with other invited guests, assembled to do him honor. The company was received by Miss Ogle Taylee. President of the Board of Lady Managers, assisted by Miss Lucy Hunter, and included the President and Mrs. Hayes. The rooms were well filled and the large saloon crowded with guests. In the early part of the evening, a poem, by Mrs. Dahlgren, who was not well enough to be present, was read by a gentleman. It was in commemoration of the event the company were assembled to celebrate. This was followed by an ode by Rev. Dr. Hill to Mr. Corcoran, suggested by the ode of Horace to his friend Moccenas. Then Mrs. Ogle Tayloe presented to the Home a valuable of Horace to his friend Moccenas. Then Mrs. Ogle Tayloe presented to the Home a valuable diamond ring, to be worn by the presidents of the board of lady managers. Mr. Corcoran's acceptance of this present for the Home was read by Bishop Pinkney. A superb floral ornament, presented by Mr. Hayes, adorned the grand saloon; another of equal beauty was much admired in the manager's parlor. Candelabra, with wax candles, added to the britiancy of the scene. In the south parlor a superb entertainment, prepared by Wormley, was served at 9 o'clock. The table decorations were very beautiful. The winter wind which blew and the bitter sky which froze without, rendered and the bitter sky which froze without, rendered by contrast the delightful warmth, brilliant light, and sheen of silver and crystal within most enjoyable, while the good Christmas cheer gladdened the hearts of the convivers. At ten o'clock the party broke up, with many aspira-tions for a still longer life to their noble friend and the benefactor of his race. - Wash Sun, Her.

The Deleterious Use of Alum in Bread and Baking Powders.

BY HENRY A. MOTT, JR., PH.D., E. M.

Out of the many baking powders I have examined, I have selected the more prominent ones that are adulterated, giving in each case a quantitative analysis of the same. The following analyses are of "Dooley's Standard Baking Powder," "Charm Baking Powder," and the baking powder manufactured by C. E. Andrews & Co., of Milwaukee. The analysis of the last three baking powders given in the first column three baking powders given in the first column was made by Professor Kobert W. Schedier.
